Malcolm Fontier Messenger Bag

Sometimes to make a fashion statement, you just have to turn the world on its ear. Malcolm Fontier has turned their messenger bag on its end with the vertical Entertainer Tech. The company ethos is one we can get behind, as it's intended for those with a passion for "off-the-beaten-path adventures done with style." This eco-conscious bag is made of soft and durable coated canvas with a natural linen lining and has savvy features like easy magnetic closures, neoprene protective pockets for laptops and cameras, and incognito zippers. There are more pockets and slots tucked away in each compartment than you'll know what to do with, so you can stash all the chaos of your stuff while still projecting a streamlined look to the outside world. Brown or black. $249.
